

MISCELLANEOUS COLLEGE-RELATED SITES

LINKS TO CAMPUS NEWSPAPERS, REVIEWS AND RANKINGS, CAMPUS SECURITY, CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION, COLLEGE PACKING LIST

www.referencedesk.org/collegepaper.html

www.greekspot.com/collegenews

<http://newslink.org/statcamp.html>

Find out what the hot issues are on campus, the kinds of events and activities that are happening, and what students are complaining about by connecting with college newspapers.

www.ratemyprofessors.com

Search by state and college to find out which professors and instructors are “hot.”

www.educationalconsulting.org

Why pay for an expensive private counselor when you can access free on-line publications? Top Ten Things Rising Seniors Can Do This Summer..., Top Ten Ways to “Test Drive” a College, and Top Ten Strengths and Experiences College Look for....

www.securityoncampus.org

Access campus crime statistics here, as well as safety videos, etc.

www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/transition.html

Find information for students with disabilities, rights and responsibilities, from the Office for Civil Rights, at this Department of Education web site.

www.govbenefits.gov

Find links to government programs geared for students with physical disabilities or emotional hardships here. You must complete a lengthy questionnaire to use the site.

www.cmha.ca/youreducation/

This web site is for students with psychiatric disabilities who are dealing with issues pertaining to college application and enrollment, such as “to disclose or not to disclose.”

www.bazelon.org

Click on “Publications” to access Campus Mental Health: Know Your Rights, a guide for college students who want to seek help for mental illness or emotional distress. It explains legal rights and treatment options.

www.co-op.edu

Learn more about cooperative education, a work-learn program, at this site.

www.collegeanswer.com/global/about/download_library.jsp

Print out a packing list before you head off to college. Click on “student resources” and “checklists.”

www.carla.acad.umn.edu/lctl

A list of colleges offering unusual foreign languages is available here.